AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

FIRST DEFENSE

As its First Defense, Ditech states that the FDCPA claims are barred as it is not a debt collector under the FDCPA.

SECOND DEFENSE

As its Second Defense, Ditech states that the FDCPA claims are barred as it is a creditor under the FDCPA.

THIRD DEFENSE

As its Third Defense, Ditech states that the FDCPA claims are barred to the extent that Plaintiff and/or any class members seek to recover damages for any FDCPA violations that occurred more than one (1) year prior to the filing of this lawsuit.

¹ Ditech notes that the Complaint has two paragraphs numbered Paragraph 40. [ECF No. 17].

FOURTH DEFENSE

As its Fourth Defense, Ditech states that the FDCPA claims under 15 U.S.C. § 1692g are barred as the subject envelopes are not "communications" under 15 U.S.C. § 1692a because they do not convey any information regarding a debt directly or indirectly to any person through any medium.

FIFTH DEFENSE

As its Fifth Defense, Ditech states that the FDCPA claims are barred as the subject envelopes were not communications in the connection with debt collection, but rather to enforce a security interest.

SIXTH DEFENSE

As its Sixth Defense, Ditech states that the FDCPA claims are barred due to a failure by Plaintiff and/or the class members to mitigate their damages.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

As its Seventh Defense, Ditech states that the FDCPA claims are barred as any alleged violation was not intentional and resulted from a bona fide error notwithstanding it maintaining procedures reasonably adapted to avoid any such error.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

As its Eighth Defense, Ditech states that the FDCPA claims are barred because Plaintiff does not have standing under Article III of the Constitution because he did not suffer an injury-in-fact. See Spokeo, Inc. v. Robins, 135 S. Ct. 1892 (2015).

NINTH DEFENSE

As its Ninth Defense, Ditech states that Plaintiff's demand for a jury trial should be stricken because Plaintiff waived the right to bring a jury trial for this claim in the underlying loan documents.

TENTH DEFENSE

As its Tenth Defense, Ditech states that to the extent that the alleged act constituted an FDCPA violation, such act was outside the scope of its relationship with Safeguard, and thus, Ditech cannot be held vicariously liable as a matter of law.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

As its Eleventh Defense, if Ditech is liable to Plaintiff in any sum whatsoever, then a vendor and/or vendors is liable to indemnify it under common law principles of indemnity and under contract.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

As its Twelfth Defense, Ditech states that class certification is not appropriate as to any putative class members who are parties to binding arbitration agreements.

RESERVATION OF RIGHTS

Ditech reserves the right to amend its affirmative defenses as the case progresses, in accordance with the requirements of any Scheduling Order of this Court.
